By Arthur Brisbane

WHEN THIS was written, at five o'clock yesterday afternoon, two fine young American army officers, Mainland and Hegeberger, had finished their "hop" from Oakland, Cal., to Honolulu, 2,400 miles, in twenty-four hours, and the brave young Commander Byrd, with his three companions, had passed Cape Breton two hours earlier.

THIS COUNTRY really flies when you give it a chance. We have the men, many of them know how, hundreds of light aircrafts will supply them with the right flying and fighting air machines, this country need never fear anything or any nation.

MRS. FREEMAN, the unhappy mother whose husband was killed by an automobile, killed herself and her five children when told they must go to an orphan asylum. "Better dead than without a mother," said the poor woman, and went with them.

She was careful to protect two canary birds, putting them where the deadly gas could not reach them. She knew that canary birds have a value, somebody would buy them and treat them kindly. She knew that children have no value; that she could not be sure that strangers in an asylum would treat them kindly.

'EXPECT TO SIGHT LAND IN HOUR,' BYRD BROADCASTS

Out of a freezing fog at a 10,000-foot height above the rolling sea, Commander Byrd and his daring band of transatlantic fliers neared the coast of France today. The goal was in sight after a passage over the ocean in weather conditions far more disagreeable than those encountered either by Lindbergh or Chamberlin. Byrd should reach Paris by 4 p. m. if all goes well.

But the huge gold and silver monoplane, equipped with three Wright Whirlwind motors, apparently was performing at its peak of efficiency, for Byrd's radioed messages, sent out at long delayed intervals, said nothing of any trouble.

There was one exception when he told of flying sixteen hours through the fog, and added that "no matter what happens, I would take his hat off to his three companions.

All along the Irish coast to the west crowds were reported out, with their eyes fixed all when word was flashed that Byrd must be approaching land again after his long grind through the night.

But when the America's commander, after a long delay, radioed his next bulletin, he gave a position that indicated intention to leave Ireland to his northeast and hit straight for France, perhaps, in the vicinity of Brest, the westernmost tip.

This message, received by the French liner Paris and relayed to America, was caught at 11 o'clock, Greenwich time (7 a. m., Boston time), and said: "We are 10,000 feet up in a freezing dense fog. Position 11 Greenwich meridian time, 49.33 North Latitude, 18.10 West Longitude. Fine, thanks. You have helped us a lot."

Byrd's position as given would place him then about 600 miles west of Land's End, England.

Later the Paris caught another message in which Byrd placed himself at 80.08 degrees of latitude and 7.67 degrees west of longitude, or approximately 200 miles west of Land's End.

This message was picked up at 11:14, Boston time: "We hope to sight land at end of hour," Byrd said.

"Grew feeling fine after strenuous trip," Byrd said. If all goes well Byrd and his three companions should be bearing down on Le Bourget Field, Paris, sometime around 4 p. m., Eastern Standard time, this afternoon.

Through blanketing fog—no thick the North Pole flier could not see the tips of the plane's wings—Commander Byrd drove the America for many long anxious hours last night.

A radio from Byrd at 7:45 o'clock this morning stated that everything was covered with fog and he had not seen land nor since 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The doughty commander had met his wife to gain aeronautical knowledge under all possible conditions.

The America relayed off 2,300 miles from Roosevelt Field in 33 hours, if her position as figured by the S. S. Berlin, is correct.

Having set new records for keeping in frequent communication with ship and shore, the "America" today is taking to its landing place secrets wrested from the cloud-banked skies which may be of air to future fliers. What these secrets are has not been revealed. Commander Byrd, in one of his radio messages, merely reported laconically that "we believe we have collected some scientific data."

Byrd 'Takes Off His Hat to These Great Fellows With Me'

New York, June 30.—Airmen who follow by the continuous note that carried, a message came splitting over the radio from Commander Byrd, above the Atlantic, today. "Everything completely covered with fog," he said, "but we have taken my hat off to these three great fellows with me."

The radio from the leader of the daring band of four who are winging their way from New York to Paris in the giant gold and silver monoplane "America," stunned listeners at the Byrd hangar, who have crowded the high-valued shed since the take-off early yesterday.

The ominous message was received a short time after officials of the Vauxhall wireless station at the southwest tip of Ireland had caught signals from the Byrd plane and had charted his probable position as about 200 miles off the Irish coast.

This charting was relayed to America and was received at the Roosevelt Field hangar at 6:30 Eastern Standard time.

Several ships reported early today that they had caught the Byrd signals, but also ship calculations of the big monoplane's probable position were wide variations.

"Probably Commander Byrd has been sighted," was one opinion, expressed comment radioed by the steamship "Humboldt" from the southwest of Ireland, and picked up by the hangar crew.

As the daring band progressed steadily toward the low-lying line of hills, the Byrd plane was seen by the liner Doric at sea. It was addressed to Grover Whalen, and read:

"No time to waste with code now. This radio is a hectic job. Regards, Neville."

"Crew is in good condition. Head winds are blowing us. Cape Race is the first station we will raise on this coast. Regards to all the hangar crew."

This message, received at Roosevelt Field shortly before 6 o'clock this evening, New York D. S. T., indicated that Byrd was nearing the eastern coast of Newfoundland.

and about 200 miles south of Commander Byrd's plotted course. This would bring the plane down at Le Bourget Field, Paris, at about 3 p. m., eastern daylight saving (Boston) time.

Roosevelt Field, Minn., N. Y., June 30 (INS).—The following message was received by the Chatham, Mass., broadcasting station at 2:53 o'clock this morning direct from the America, and relayed to Roosevelt Field:

"We have seen neither land nor water since 4 p. m. yesterday on account of dense fog and low clouds covering an enormous area."

(Signed) BYRD.

Roosevelt Field, Minn., N. Y., June 30 (INS).—The Steamship Belgenland, eastbound, reported hearing signals from the America, according to a dispatch from the Chatham broadcasting station at 2 o'clock. This Steamship and the liner Paris, also eastbound, are believed to be the nearest ships to the plane. It was estimated they were about 200 miles from the America. It was presumed that the signals referred to call letters which Chatham had reported picking up earlier in the night.

7:00 A. M.—Steamship Paris receives message from Byrd at 5:33 north, 18.10 west, saying he was 18,000 feet up in a dense freezing fog. The position of the America was about 600 miles west of Land's End, Eng.

'MISSING' GIRL AGREEMENT ON DESTROYERS WRITES HOME

Associated Press in an exclusive statement that Great Britain has no intention of disposing of naval supremacy with the United States.

Partly between the United States and Great Britain has figured prominently on the sidelines of the peace conference, and now that a British Ambassador spokesman has agreed to the British suggestion should continue with fewer fundamental misunderstandings.

Bridgeport declared his surprise that some quarters had gained the impression that Great Britain was calling for supremacy.

"It is true," he continued, "we think our special needs demand a higher number in certain types of vessels, but we do not deny the rights of the United States to build up to an equal figure in any type of warship, if she so chooses."

The experts have before them proposals for creating two classes of invention, cruiser—mine, having 5,000 tons, and the other having 6,000 tons. The Americans have shown not the slightest disposition to agree to the British suggestion that cruisers in future be limited to 7,000 tons and have 6,000 guns.

Under the British plan such limitation would be based on an agreement as to the number of 10,000-ton cruisers allocated to Great Britain, the United States and Japan.

VANDERBILT GIRL TO BE FORGIVEN FOR MARRYING

DIVORCES VANDERBILT

Paris decree frees Mrs. Emily O.N. Davies Vanderbilt, wife of William H. Vanderbilt, and it is said she is to be married soon to Count De Janze, former husband of Alice Silverthorne of Chicago, who shot and seriously wounded Raymond De Trafford, a wealthy young Englishman, in Paris last March and tried to kill herself.

Millionaire Dad to Say 'Bless You'

New York, June 30.—The newly wedded Henry Cassaway Davis, the Third, and Grace Vanderbilt were reported speeding westward on a honeymoon to British Columbia.

Belated blessings will soon be sent them by the bride's parents, General and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, it was learned from a source close to the family.

This follows the bride's unsuccessful attempts to get in touch with her parents immediately after the ceremony at the marriage license bureau that united her with the wealthy son of an old West Virginia family.

The new Mrs. Davis spent the afternoon in futile telephone calls to her former home, it is said. Subsequently she and Davis went through a second wedding ceremony, this time religious, when they went to the famous Little Church Around the Corner at midnight.

As at the previous service, Colonel Henry Howell Armstrong, uncle of the bridegroom, was the only member of either family present at the church. Where Policeman Patrick Kelly had been called in as the second required witness at the Madison church near Washington, affiliated chapel Building, Edward Owen, the vicar, officiated.

Reliable authorities declared that both General Vanderbilt and his wife are entirely friendly with young Davis and his family and that they wished the couple every happiness. The bride's parents did not know of the wedding until it was over.

BISHOP FIGHTS FOR HIS LIFE FLY 'WE' PLANE ON HONEYMOON

The condition of Rt. Rev. Joseph G. Anderson, auxiliary bishop of Boston, was described at noon today at St. Peter's Catholic rectory in Dorchester, as "unchanged but critical."

Bishop Anderson, permanent rector of St. Peter's, is making a fight for his life in the rectory at No. 293 Bowdoin street, that his patients fear will be in vain.

Afflicted with a serious stomach ailment several weeks ago, Bishop Anderson was eventually confined to his bed, and in the last few days, took a turn that has caused widespread alarm through the Boston diocese. Previews for his speedy recovery are being offered in church and home by members of his parish.

"Honeymooning in the air has it all over honeymooning in any other fashion," said Mrs. Frank Hawks as she and her husband took off from the Boston airport today to fly with the Ford trophy fleet in New York.

She and her husband have spent most of the time flying since they were married a few months ago. They are flying a Ryan monoplane, the exact duplicate of that in which Lindbergh spanned the Atlantic.

"We flew from Texas to Washington to be on hand when Lindbergh landed," Mrs. Hawks said today. "And when we left there after the celebration to come to New York everyone thought we were flying the other half of 'we'."

NAVY BOATS TO MEET FLIERS AT SEA; LIGHTS BLAZE WAY

Paris, June 30 (A.P.).—Commander Byrd will find Paris easier to locate than the North Pole. Every possible arrangement has been made by the French authorities to lead him easily to a resting place for his plane America beside the graceful column at Le Bourget Air Field, consecrating the glory of his predecessor, Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh.

Tide, or appropriate coincidence, will be unveiled today as the American making his way thither along the trail Lindbergh blazed.

SURE OF SAFE ARRIVAL.
The French public, which seems to have not the slightest doubt of Commander Byrd's safe arrival, is prepared to welcome him in a manner befitting his mission.

As soon as the America is reported as a French naval dispatch boat, and the United States torpedo boats, which will be sent to meet him, will be ordered to escort the plane.

Kinkadee to Fix Plane For Return Hop

New York, June 30.—To be on hand for the Paris triumph of the first transatlantic American, T. Harold ("Doc") Kinkadee, motor expert and specialist on Wright whirling motors, sailed on the United States liner President Roosevelt.

Kinkadee arrived at the pier after a long morning spent in putting the final touches on the three new being used by Commander Byrd and his three companions on their flight across the Atlantic. He admitted he had received last minute orders from Commander Byrd to join him at Paris. I want you to get the plane ready for a trip back to the United States, Kinkadee related.

Kinkadee believed there was little cause for worry when told of Byrd's message stating they were having trouble with their compass.

"It's probably local," he said. "I've had four compasses any way, and if one goes bad they can be replaced on the other three."

As all the power-plant space was occupied on the President Roosevelt, Kinkadee is expected to go to Paris by the liner America.

However, Capt. George Ford, who is in charge of the plane, a friend of Kinkadee, settled matters by stating: "We'll make it. If you're not too particular, you can bank with me if necessary."

Rubber Boats Ready if Byrd's Plane Hits Water

New York, June 30 (U.S.A.)—If forced to descend in the water, the plane would land on the two rubber boats which have aboard. These boats would be hoisted up as they were falling, and two men would take to each boat as they descended upon the water. The boats contain enough concentrated food to sustain the fliers for 24 hours.

Before the last Byrd's last words.

CHILLY ADVENT FOR JULY

Stagnant at a maximum mark of 65 above yesterday and reaching a minimum of 55 above last night, the temperature today showed little trend towards summer heights and is officially predicted to give July a chilly reception tomorrow.

The entire weather map today, issued from the Rockies, indicated unsettled conditions with a storm area reaching from Minnesota to New Mexico and another moved over the Atlantic seaboard from North Carolina to the Gulf.

The only sections favored with summer weather were the Ohio and Mississippi valleys, where the mercury early today averaged around a mark of 60 above.

Forecast for Boston and vicinity: Partly cloudy tonight and Friday; not much change in temperature; moderate east to south winds.

BYRD GOING TO SOUTH POLE

New York, June 29 (A.P.).—The New York American in a copyright story today says Commander Byrd and his three companions will start on their flight to the South Pole.

The American says work has already been started on three Ford planes, which will be piloted by Commander Byrd, Fred Bennett, and Bert Arnold. A complete crew has been selected, as well as a ship to transport the party south.

Edsel Ford, John D. Harkness, Jr., and others involved in Byrd's conquest of the North Pole will finance the present venture.

SUIT AGAINST TOWN IN BOY'S DEATH DISMISSED

The Federal Court suit of Henry O. Fiskell of Ashby against the town, for damages for the death of his son, was dismissed by Judge Morton.

Fiskell charged that the town permitted automobiles to use a road-way through part of a school yard or "reservation" and that the boy was killed while playing there.

The town, however, claimed that the boy was killed while playing there.

RADIO BEACON KEPT PLANE ON ITS COURSE, PACIFIC FLIERS SAY

AIRMEN DEAFENED BY NOISE OF THREE ROARING MOTORS

When we made slight errors we were able to correct them very soon.

"About 750 miles from San Francisco, Lieutenant Hegenberger remarked, 'We ought to see a ship near some mountains looked down and there was one directly below the plane.'

STRONG CROSS WINDS.

"For the first 500 miles, we had strong cross winds and after that a very strong tail wind. We flew all day at an altitude of 300 feet, but at night we went to 10,000 feet for celestial observations.

"Each motor gave a little trouble but it was all straightened out. 'The Fokker is a marvelous plane. It is very comfortable to fly in any weather. There is no desire to look out ahead.'

"After the first hour from San Francisco, we got into heavy local showers and met them nearly all the way across. We traveled a maximum of 115 miles an hour. 'Our first night of land was the light-house of Kauai, exactly 24 hours after starting, or that is 6 o'clock in the morning.

WANTED COFFEE.

"It was very cold at night and Kauai was covered with heavy clouds. You can bet that light house good to us in the early dawn and the sunrise on Kauai was the most beautiful sight I have ever seen," said Mailand, the spokesman, in conclusion.

"I want to add, he said, 'that we are grateful for the privilege of making this trip. There are plenty of pilots in the army who could have done it as well or better. The only amazing incident—our frequent thirst for that coffee and soup which was in our cabin but which we could not find.

South Boston Citizens Wire Hegenberger

A group of South Boston citizens, elated over the success of their former townsman, Lt. Albert Hegenberger, pilot of the army monoplane which yesterday crossed the Pacific from California to Honolulu, sent him a congratulatory message. The cablegram reads as follows:

"Your old friends and neighbors of South Boston join with the nation in extending congratulations to you."

The message was signed by Mr.

Cotton Propeller Pushed Plane Over Pacific

Those spinning propeller blades, whose speed made them invisible excepting for a glittering circle when the army plane of Lieutenants Mailand and Hegenberger took off for its successful flight from San Francisco, are made of cotton. It was revealed today.

Also the other two trans-Pacific fliers, R. C. Gray, ex-navy pilot, and Smith, the civilian, use propellers of cotton, treated with a synthetic binder, the whole being pressed into a metal-hard material almost impossible of destruction excepting in a crash. The blades are made detachable. The new propeller-blade substance is called "milsart."

Flight on Speed Test at Kauai

Waiman, Island of Kauai, Hawaii, June 29 (A.P.)—Richard Grace, Hollywood aviator, who came here last Friday with a plane in which he proposed to make a flight from Hawaii to the mainland, planned a speed test flight today. His take-off was dependent on favorable weather.

Milwaukee Prepares to Honor Mailand

Milwaukee, Wis., June 30 (A.P.)—Milwaukee, birthplace of Lieutenant Lester Jim Mailand, Hawaiian flier, is planning to honor its air hero. A telegram has been sent to Major-General Mason M. Patrick, chief of the Army Air Corps, asking that Lieutenant Mailand be allowed to come to Milwaukee immediately after he lands in the west coast.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Mailand, now reside in California.

Honolulu Arranges Many Social Events for Fliers

Honolulu, June 30 (A.P.)—The pleasant qualities of heroism were taxed upon Lieutenants Lester J. Mailand and Albert Hegenberger today as all Hawaii greeted them for their swift new flight from the Golden Gate to Honolulu.

The two trim, wind-burned army aviators had spent the night in a private suite at the Waikiki beach hotel, to make up for the sleep they lost in their flight of 22 hours and 50 minutes.

An active social program was arranged for the trio. The schedule included a call at 9 a. m. on Major-General Edward A. Lewis, commanding the Hawaiian Department of the army; 10 a. m., a call upon Rear-Admiral John D. McDonald, commanding the Fourteenth Naval District; 11 a. m., a call upon Governor Wallace Farrington; 12 noon, a community luncheon; 2 p. m., a dinner given by Colonel John H. Howard, department air officer; and Mrs. Howard; 9 p. m., a public reception. Scores of congratulatory messages were received by the fliers today. Further social activities have been arranged for the evenings of July 2 and July 4. There was much speculation here as to what effect their successful flight will have upon public interest in the competition for the Dole prize. The general opinion is that race for the first and second prize of $25,000 and $10,000 for the first flight from the mainland to Hawaii after noon of August 15.

13 FORD FLIERS LEAVE HUB FOR N. Y.

With their wings glistering in the bright morning sun, thirteen airplanes, ranging in size from the giant Ford all-metal plane to the tiny Pittsford single seater, roared into the air from the Boston airport today on the Boston-New York leg of the latest Ford trophy flight of 4,190 miles.

It was the greatest air armada that has ever left the Boston airport and the spectacle was an imposing one.

The fliers and their passengers were in high spirits as they left Boston for New York. The weather was the finest they encountered since leaving Detroit and was in direct contrast to the foggy rain that was encountered on the flight from Schenectady to New York yesterday.

ONE PLANE MISSING.

Of the four planes forced down in western Massachusetts by the weather, three reached the air field at Boston Airport today and took off with the others for New York. The fourth plane is still in the western part of the State, but is expected to reach the city tomorrow.

FOUR FORCED DOWN.

When the fliers arrived in Boston the enthusiasm of the party was somewhat dampened by weather conditions that had been encountered and by the fact that four of the planes had been forced down before reaching Boston. Several of the other planes, unable to locate the Boston airport because of its poor marking, cruised about over the city and over the North Shore for almost two hours, before they finally located the field.

A welcome dinner tendered the fliers and their passengers at the Hotel Lenox by Mayor Nichols dispelled the gloom, however, and today's bright sunshine revived the spirits of the trophy contenders.

PARIS DIVORCE GRANTED MRS. VANDERBILT

Paris, June 30 (F.N.S.)—Announcement was made today that the Paris court had granted a divorce to Mrs. Emily G. Vanderbilt.

The divorce was granted by the Court De Janzé in the former husband of Alton Silverthorne, of Chicago, who shot and seriously wounded Raymond De Trafford, a wealthy young Englishman, last March, and then tried to kill himself.

EAST BOSTON FIGHTER NOT IN DIVORCE CASE

The fighter mentioned in reports of the Frank G. Desmond divorce case in Suffolk Superior Court, as printed in the Boston Evening American, is not "K. O. Muggsy" of East Boston, well known ringster of five years ago.

"K. O. Muggsy" a married man and the father of three children. He is in no way connected with the Desmond divorce case and the American takes this opportunity to correct any error to the contrary. The East Boston fighter is George Perry in private life and lives in Paris street. He earned his ring name through a string of knockouts scored against opponents in Boston rings.

WOMAN FLIES TO LONDON BECAUSE SHE WILL TALK

London, June 30 (A.P.)—When Mrs. Elton G. Wahner of Chicago wishes to talk to her husband she will do so at all. She declined to telephone him in New York from her hotel in Paris.

The connection could not be made, she called a London hotel to put a call through for her at a specified time, then flew to London, had tea and flew back.

EMMA BORDEN LEFT $100,000 TO CHARITY

Taunton, June 30 (A.P.)—Benefactors of more than $100,000 for charitable purposes are contained in the will of Emma I. Borden of Fall River, filed here today.

Miss Borden died in Newmarket, N. H., June 16, barely a week after the death of her sister, Lizzie, who attained wide notoriety thirty-four years ago when tried and acquitted of the murder of her father and stepmother in Fall River.

Lizzie is mentioned in one clause of the will that provides that should she survive she should receive Emma's interest in the home in French street, Fall River, where Lizzie lived.

SISTERS SEPARATED

It, however, Emma had disposed of her interest by that time, Lizzie was to receive $10,000. The sisters separated a number of years ago. Fall River Animal Rescue League gave $20,000, as well as a fifth share in the residue of the estate. Of the other four shares one is to establish scholarships in memory of her father, Andrew J. Borden, for high school students; one for the Y. M. C. A., one for the Home for the Aged and one for the Community Welfare Association.

Individual bequests in Emma's will included $10,000 and $5,000 to hold furniture to a cousin, Orrin A. Gardner of Taunton; $5,000 to Preston H. Gardner of Providence, R. I.; $10,000 to his wife and daughter; with jewelry and $2,000 to Josephine Borden of Somerset.

LIST OF TRUST FUNDS

The stated bequests in the form of trust funds include Home for the Aged, $10,000; Collegiate Alliance for Day Nursery, $4,000; Isaac Newton, $1,000; Children's Home, $4,000; Community Welfare, $4,000; Insurance Home, $2,000; Y. M. C. A., $10,000; Salvation Army, $5,000; Girl Scouts, $2,000; Boy Scouts Association, $2,000; Bishop Stang Day Nursery, $3,000; St. Vincent's Home, $4,000; Boy's Club, $2,000; Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, $2,000; Boy Scouts, $2,000. There is also a bequest of $2,500 for the Providence Animal Rescue League.

NASH HAS NEW CAR SERIES

Three new series of cars including 21 models on four different chassis layouts are announced today by the Nash Motors Company. The new series will be known as the Advanced Six, the Special Six and the Standard Six and designed a wide array of costly improvements these cars are also featuring new lower prices, the reduction ranging as high as $15.

A new radiator design, lower and more sweeping body lines and a brilliant array of new color combinations make these new models the most beautiful ever produced by Nash, and the cars fully justify the remarks which have been current for the past week that Nash would introduce an array of cars which would command nationwide praise. Important mechanical refinements and improvements are also announced at this time, including the new six-cylinder engine with the progress which has been made in increasing the power of the cars' appearance. Outstanding among these is the introduction of new springs of a secret alloy steel which is said to be increasing comfort in amazing degree.

The size of the motor in the Standard Six has been increased, and the crankshaft has also been made larger to achieve greater motor speed.

359 GIVEN DIPLOMAS

Three hundred and fifty-nine graduates of Burdett College were given diplomas at the forty-ninth annual commencement exercises in Symphony Hall today. The commencement address was delivered by Dr. William E. Barton, biographer of Lincoln, whose theme was "Veneration in Life." The address of welcome was by Rev. Dr. J. H. Sullivan, vice-president of the college, while the diplomas were presented by Fred Burdett, president of the college, and H. B. Wells, superintendent.

21,891,000 FOR ARMY FLYING NEXT YEAR

Trenton, N. Y., June 30 (A.P.)—Describing the California-Hawaii flight as a fitting climax for the first year's progress, Assistant Secretary of War Davison in charge of aeronautics today outlined the army's program for the second twelve-month period of 100 five-year aviation development plan in an address before the Rotary Club here.

Presiding the flight of Lindbergh, Maitland and Hegenberger, Mr. Davison said:
"The courage and skill shown by the two pilots typify the spirit of the Army Air Corps, while the efficient performance of the plane points to the big standard set for army aircraft."
$21,891,000 AVAILABLE.

With the new fiscal year starting tomorrow, $21,891,000 will be available, he declared, for the continuation of the aviation development plan and the next year will produce more men, more equipment and better army fields.

"There is every indication that with the support of Congress and the public, the country by the end of 1932 will have attained the air defense goal set under the law enacted in 1926, establishing the five-year development program."

"By the close of 1932 this country—if the five-year plan is realized—will have an Army Air Corps," he added, "of 1,600 flying officers, 550 reserve officers on active duty and 1,000 enlisted men."

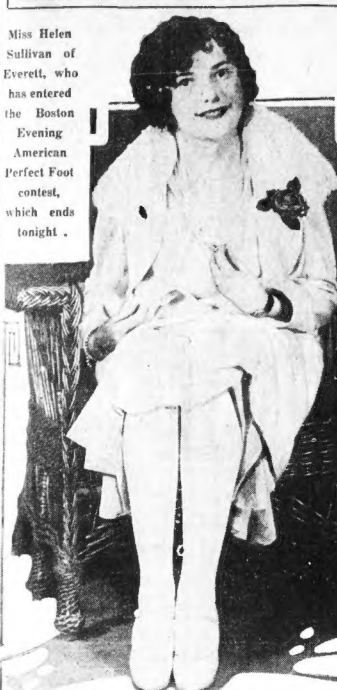

NEW EQUIPMENT.
While flying equipment will consist of 400 aircraft, 35 attack, 155 bombardment, 10 transport, 415 observation, 22 amphibious and 475 training planes and 110 aircraft of various types in use.

Assistant Secretary Davison said the September 1, 1926, existing field has been established at March Field, Cal., and plans inaugurated for the development of new bombardment and attack planes far superior to those now in use.

Ken is tough with Davison's nodding at writing the summer school. The Boston Evening American, starting his.

'BEER-BY-THE-GLASS' VOTE DWINDLES IN MANITOBA

Winnipeg, Man., June 30 (A.P.)—The large majority established by the glass in Manitoba dwindle today as returns from Wednesday's provincial election came in from rural districts. Final results, however, may not be known for two or three days.

Returns tabulated today showed 41,745 votes in favor of sale of beer by the glass and 23,477 in favor of the bottle under the "cash and carry" system.

JUDGE RESCINDS $1 FINE AS GIRL LOSES PURSE

New York, June 30.—Mildred McFerrary rescinded the fine and gave her suspended sentence instead.

Here's the how of it. Magistrate Andrew MacBeary fined her $1 for driving her auto without lights. Mildred walked over to pay the fine, and reached for her handbag, which contained her purse. Then she screamed. The handbag, purse and $21.50 had been stolen while she waited her turn.

Mildred didn't scream because of the loss, but because she feared she must go to jail, said Magistrate from the presidency.

LOWDEN WILL NOT RUN AWAY FROM PRESIDENCY

Chicago, June 30 (A.P.)—Former Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois today told an Indiana delegation that called on him at his home at Oregon, Ill., to urge him to be a Republican candidate for the presidency in 1928 that he "knew of no man in all our history who has run away from the presidency."

LAST CALL FOR PERFECT FEET
Tonight at midnight the curtain will fall on the Boston Evening American's Perfect Foot Contest.
Tomorrow the final photographs of pretty feminine feet that have reached the Contest. Editors from every book and corner of New England will be seated in preparation for the scrutiny of the committee of judges.
From the enormous total of entries that have made this one of the most popular competitions ever directed by the Boston Evening American, all but 25 will be eliminated. From these semifinalists will be chosen the 25 prize winners of the program of the great shoe exposition at the Hotel Statler next week in the final contest, elimination from which Miss New England of the Perfect Foot will emerge.
Contest fans are already well acquainted with the wonderful prizes provided by the Kid Leather Tanning Association for the 25 finalists in this exciting foot contest. Kid shoes by E. Miller & Sons and to be distributed through Harvey & Company. To Miss New England herself will be given a gold medal emblem of the unique and enviable honor, with $100 in cash, silver and bronze medals with cash prizes will also be given for her most meritorious competitors.
Watch the Boston Evening American daily for the news of the progress of the elimination and above all for the names of the 25 finalists. Perhaps some of our readers would like to enter the contest at this eleventh hour. A special delivery mailed before midnight is recommended.
TEACHERS, WED 3 YEARS, TO HOLD LYNN POSTS
Superintendent of Schools Harvey S. Granger announces that no teacher or who was married prior to three years ago will be affected by the new School Committee order against the employment of married teachers. He said there were only four of the 60 teachers already married who would be barred from further employment in Lynn.

"THE CANCER PLANK IN THE WORLD"

At Last!... You've read of it; you've heard rumors of it . . . Here it is—the Ile de France, giant flagship of the French Line, the most astounding bit of Paris that ever crossed the Atlantic on its maiden trip and docked for American inspection.

A Foyer, four decks high, with a streetful of jewel-box shoppe
... a Grand Salon in the manner of the Exposition of Decorative Arts, modern to its fortieth lacquered column, its crystal doors its golden statues, its thousand-square-foot dance floor ... the largest dining room afloat, in three shades of marble from the Pyrenees, with square old-gold windows from Lalique, silver port holes, chairs in natural wood with legs of silver and seats of green
... a Tea Room panelled in silver with ten towering windows curtained in the gayest printed silk that Rodier ever made ...

A sidewalk cafe, just like those in Paris... a Winter Garden... a five-fold Smoking Room of august proportions... a twenty-nine foot Bar... the biggest gymnasium ever designed for a ship with a real tennis court, a boxing ring, a shooting gallery with moving targets... a merry-go-round for the children... a permanent chapel... a sixty-car garage... Did you ever see such a ship outside of your dreams?

Transpacific Plane Will Be Kept at Honolulu

Washington, June 30.—The Transpacific plane and its crew will not fly back to the United States and the plane will be left there for the time being, the War Department decided.

Assistant Secretary Dutton in charge of army aviation, in making the announcement, said the airplane used by the aviators, a regular army transport plane, was of a type much needed in the islands.

ASKS FOR REPAIR FUND

There have been no funds set aside for the repair of the airplane, and the War Department is asking for a fund to be set aside for the repair of the airplane, and the War Department is asking for a fund to be set aside for the repair of the airplane.

It would be good if some part of the appropriation were set aside for emergency repairs. Prior appropriation by the State for the repair of the airplane, and the War Department is asking for a fund to be set aside for the repair of the airplane.

Whether you need a full tank of gasoline or just a little air, you are sure of the same careful, courteous attention at every Jenney Station. And Jenney Gasoline and Oil will carry you a long way for your money!

There's a Jenney Station just ahead. Keep going until you see this sign —

The first drive-in station in Greater Boston was a Jenney Station. It was designed for one purpose—to give Boston motorists the utmost in fuel and service. Now, as then, the name "Jenney" stands for gasoline and oil of superior quality—always dependable—always economical and satisfactory.

Use Jenney Gasoline and Oil—for a steady flow of power that takes you where you want to go—over every hill and every road condition—at the least cost of fuel, oil and upkeep.

Start Survey of Death Traps

CHECK UP ON GRADE CROSSINGS

Commissioner Ready to Put Blinkers and Signals at Danger Spots

The most comprehensive checkup of death traps on road grade crossings ever undertaken in Massachusetts is being started as a result of the campaign of the Boston Evening American for better protection for the public at these dangerous spots.

At a meeting of the board of the Massachusetts Highway Commission, held last night, the board voted to send a survey party to inspect all the grade crossings in the state.

The survey will be made by a party of five men, headed by the state engineer, who will be accompanied by a local representative of the highway commission.

shook her head and found her reading packet empty of old yellowed letters. Grandma had not explained the letters nor the reason why her eyes were red and her bit of handkerchief a mere stain on the white cloth. Grandma told her that day her peace of mind was shattered by the knowledge that she shook sleepily as she crimped the edge of a tart for old Mrs. Biers. Biers was the woman who had been a nette for Louise Pott.

Grandma told her that it was for the first time Doctor Morrow said she was the hostess added to a touch of the red in her eyes. "I don't know," she better. She was worried. The joy of her life was gone. She was no longer by the one being who doubled her. Everybody was lovely to her as she was to them. She was no longer a burden, another kept the house neat and bright. She was no longer a good old soul herself. If only she would get well.

Grandma was so glad to come to a decision. She sat at her window and looked out at the old garden.

For NEW ENGLAND: 1—Weld the six States into a unit through the activities of the New England Council, thus creating a community consciousness.

2—Promote intercourse with Central and South America, encouraging New Englanders to "turn to the sea" again.

- 3—Keeping everlastingly at the job of telling the rest of the country all about our unique advantages as Summer and Winter Playground of the Nation.
- 4—Foster the prosperity of our Industries through (1) greater efficiency in production and (2) the use of modern methods in merchandising.
- 5—Promote in every way such natural resources as forests, water power and fisheries.
- 6—Assist New England agriculture to better marketing methods.
